Ryan Ladurantaye found himself in handcuffs last week when he and other members of the Minden play school visited the local detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police. Constable Brian Dunham conducted the pre-schoolers on a tour of the station explaining the role of the police officer and showing the youngsters some of the equipment used by the force.

Development policy needed for highway

A development policy for Highway 35 commercial properties should be created by the municipal council.

That was the sentiment expressed by Anson, Hindon and Minden Councillor Gary Kenney as he voted against a motion approving the opening of a furniture store in the premises formerly occupied by Peterborough Lumber. Kenney emphasized he was not against the furniture store per se, but rather the fact that the municipality lacks a policy covering development on the by-pass. "This is a perfect example of strip development," Kenney stated.

When question of approval first came before the council, Kenney asked how a furniture store fit in with the accepted "food, fuel and accommodation" policy enunciated by the Ministry of Transportation and Communications for highway commercial property. It was pointed out by Deputy Reeve Ed. Pergolas that the furniture store did not front on the highway but on a municipal road. He said the South Water Street road allowance was extended across the highway some years ago to accommodate the opening of the Peterborough Lumber store. The extension of the road allowance was apparently necessary as the ministry would not grant an access permit to the lumber outlet.

Pergolas noted that since it is a municipal road allowance which extends across the highway, there was a possibility of the other retail outlets being constructed in the same area as these would front on a municipal road and not the highway.

Councillor Pat Burk noted there was no reason to have the building remain empty, as it has since the lumber company moved out almost two years ago.

Reeve Lyle McKnight pointed out that two other businesses had begun operation in that location in the past month. Minden Instant Print recently opened its doors and Ideal Used Clothing Store relocated to one of the vacant stores from its former location downtown.

Clerk-treasurer Elinor Burke noted that the property is zoned for general commercial use, under which these businesses would qualify. However, she also pointed out that when Daniel Lang Developments of Oshawa took over the property several years ago, an agreement between the developer and the municipality stated the township would be notified of any changes in business at that location.

Kenney said he felt the opening of the municipal road on the eastern side of the highway circumvented the planning extension for the by-pass. Admitting that the situation now existed and there was little the council could do, he urged the council to develop a policy which would prevent this from happening again. "We have a responsibility to the entire community," he said. Kenney suggested that since the council could do nothing to block the opening of the furniture store.

"We should say we don't agree with what is taking place...they can proceed anyway."

Council, though appearing sympathetic to Kenney's stand, approved the motion with the only negative vote being cast by Kenney.

The new furniture store, which is to open next month, will be operated by Mary Raby of Minden.

Business moves

Council also indicated that it has no objections to the relocation of Leon's Video store to the former Sweet Retreat. According to the information provided to the council, the store will continue to operate as a take-out dairy bar, bakery outlet and video rental business.

Vehicle registration costs township

One of the more onerous aspects of the last provincial budget became a glaring reality for the members of the Anson, Hindon and Minden Township council when they met April 14.

As the council considered the accounts for the previous month, it was noted that the registration of the municipal vehicles had taken place with close to $2500 being earmarked for the expenditure. According to the clerk, Elinor Burke, the township spent approximately $30 last year to register the municipally-owned vehicles.

Prior to the last provincial budget, the registration fee for municipal vehicles was $2 per vehicle. However the province changed the exemption. As a result municipalities must now pay the regular rate for the vehicles it owns. The registration covers fire trucks, graders, dump trucks and vehicles used by the recreation, public utilities and by-law enforcement staff.

Lieutenant-Governor will unveil plaque

Lieutenant-Governor John Black Aird will unveil a provincial historical plaque commemorating B. Napier Simpson Jr., a prominent Ontario architect, on Sunday May 1. The ceremony will take place at St. Peter's Anglican Church, Maple Lake following the 11 a.m. service.

The plaque, one of many erected throughout the province, is being donated by the Ontario Heritage Foundation, an agency of the Ministry of Citizenship and Culture. The Foundation is dedicated to fostering wider interest in local history and stimulating greater participation in the preservation of the province's historical and natural resources.

The event is being sponsored by the congregation of St. Peter's Maple Lake and the rector, the Reverend George Elliott, will act as master of ceremonies. Mr. Russell Cooper, a director of the Ontario Heritage Foundation, will present the plaque and briefly outline the agency's work. Following the unveiling by Lieutenant-Governor Aird, Mr. B. Napier Simpson, Sr., will speak as a representative of the Simpson family.

The text of the plaque reads as follows:

A prominent Ontario architect, Simpson was born and educated in Toronto. After graduating from university in 1951, he established a thriving private practice and soon became involved in public restoration projects. An expert in this field, Simpson undertook commissions throughout the province, playing a significant role in the development of Black Creek Pioneer Village in Toronto and Century Village near Peterborough. Through his work with various heritage groups and his efforts to preserve individual structures such as St. Peter's Church where he is buried, he helped heighten public awareness of the value of heritage conservation. Widely recognized for his achievements, Simpson was appointed to the Ontario Heritage Foundation and the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada, remaining active in these organizations until his death.

Refreshments prepared by the Ladies Auxiliary of St. Peter's will be served in the church following the ceremony.

Schools mark Education week

This week is "Education Week" throughout Ontario and Archie Stouffer School in Minden is marking the occasion Tuesday and Wednesday. Principal Stuart Baker said that although this is formally "Education Week", circumstances dictate that other events, such as a music and drama presentation which had to be postponed to May 19 are not included in this week's activities.

All day Tuesday Janet Smith of the Cancer Society, a visitor to the school for "a number of years" presented an anti-smoking program to grades three to five, with classes from Dorset joining for one of the presentations.

"One of the programs was started by a teacher who wanted to make her students more aware of senior citizens," said Baker. The teacher, Bernie Davis, set up the program for her grade four students before education week. The grade four students are twinned with seniors and spend time with them eating lunch and talking. The program has been adapted this week for a grade six class and includes an invitation to the Haliburton Home Support Services to discuss the theme "Seniors in the Community." The grade six program is a week long all together.

On Wednesday the school band "is taking part in the North Hastings Music Festival in Bancroft, under the direction of Glen Carter," said the principal. The festival is the reason the music and drama presentation has to be scheduled later. However, "a number of pieces presented at the festival will be played for the people here to enjoy."

Home Support Services will be visiting again to present a special presentation to grade seven "to make people aware of the information centre." Baker said the hope is that "by making our grade seven students more aware" and thereby "make parents in the county more aware of the centre." It seems Education Week can also be for parents.

Baker said the TVO videos on computers are still running and will be for three remaining Wednesdays including tonight at 8 p.m.

County hears Hydro's stand on spraying

The dioxin debate moved from the township to county level April 20 when Ontario Hydro presented its public relations effort on dioxin to members of Haliburton County council.

This county level presentation drew more members of the provincial organization than the April 6 Stanhope meeting. Tom Cowan and Dave Ethier of the Georgian Bay regional office who attended the Stanhope meeting, returned with Don Mann of the Minden office. Also in attendance at this meeting were Peter Webster, another member of the Georgian Bay division and Brian Allen from Hydro's Headquarters in Toronto.

Webster briefly outlined the course the presentation would take, after which Cowan explained the slides shown. Cowan started his segment of the presentation with a few general remarks.

Cowan believes some of the problem with dioxin fears could be a "lack of communication." He said, Hydro uses sprays available to the public. The district supervisor said Hydro pursues undergrowth which needs spraying with the fervour of a "police state." He explained the herbicide leaches to the roots of the target vegetation and the "plant literally grow themselves to death."

The herbicide is not used in a "blanket spraying" manner but individual growth is "selectively treated." The growth sprayed has the potential to affect Hydro lines and impair the utilities efficiency. Cowan stressed the point that Hydro works "throughout the year" to maintain service and spraying in warmer weather lessens maintenance needed.

After successive sprayings (once every five years is an average schedule) of a right of way, the ideal result is a maintenance free passage in which smaller vegetation such as ferns and small shrubs choke out any of the larger species. Cowan said Minden has about 1,000 kilometres of right of way.

The alternative to spraying is manual brushing. This has three shortfalls according to Hydro.

The first disadvantage of manual brushing is that it is hazardous to the equipment operator. Secondly, cutting down vegetation prompts growth of multiple stems from the stump, formerly occupied by one. The third problem with manual cutting is expense. Cowan said manual brushing can cost anywhere from $3000 to $1000 per acre.

Hydro's Dave Ethier repeated his presentation given at the Stanhope meeting. He said there are about 75 dioxins, all of which are less toxic than one, the lethal 2,3,7,8-TCDD. There are some which are less toxic than common items such as, salt and coffee. Hydro claims there is not dioxin present in the herbicide is uses called 2,4-D. Ethier pointed out there appeared to be some confusion as to the role of dioxin in the spraying program. He said some people believed dioxin was the herbicide being used when in fact it is only one element in the herbicide. The dioxin in the herbicide is a by-product of the manufacturing.

An incident in the county involving a woman preserving raspberries which had been sprayed, was introduced during the question period following the presentation. Don Mann said two jars were analysed and were found to be uncontaminated. Cowan did not repeat his offer made to Stanhope council to eat berries after they had been sprayed. At Stanhope he said he was "content with the report" analysing the herbicide.

Sonya Holliday-Rhodes, president of the Haliburton County Anti-Pollution Committee, expressed a number of concerns

Cutting the red tape

During the discussion at a recent Anson, Hindon and Minden township council meeting, a number of important issues regarding commercial development along Highway 35 were brought to the fore. While we agree that the council must deal with the issues and strike a policy which clearly defines what can or cannot take place, it is on a secondary, but related point, on which we wish to comment.

During the course of the meeting the council dealt with two requests from business people. One sought approval to start a new enterprise while a second referred to the relocation of a Main Street enterprise. In both cases the municipal council passed resolutions "approving" or stating it had "no objection" to a certain action.

We question why these businesses need seek council approval at all. They are operating commercial enterprises in properly zoned areas. Their activities do not challenge any municipal by-law, nor contravene any code. So why must the matter come before the council at all? Surely the municipal by-law enforcement officer should be able to direct and assist the entrepreneurs with regard to municipal regulations, etc.

Some may suggest this is a small point, but we feel it represents an attitude on the part of the council, perhaps inadvertently inherited from previous councils which should be changed. If an entrepreneur wishes to open in this community, and what is being proposed falls within the existing regulations, then extra hurdles should not be placed in his way. Having to take their case needlessly to council is simply a waste of time and, we would suggest, creates frustration on the part of the business person.

Council and the entire municipal bureaucracy should welcome fresh investment in this community. One way to accomplish this would be to ensure the red tape is kept to a minimum.

Wardens attend opening

by John Eakins, M.P.P.

With traditional pomp and ceremony, the Ontario Legislature opened on April 18. I was pleased to have as my guest for the opening and Lieutenant Governor's reception the Wardens of our two Counties. The Warden of Victoria County, William Pethwick and his wife Dianne, and Warden William Howe of Haliburton, certainly added to the spirit of the occasion and proved to be excellent goodwill ambassadors for their Counties.

Following are some highlights of the Speech from the Throne, outlining proposed government policy.

A "senior minister" is to be named to be responsible for women's issues.

Unspecified "measures to assist young people entering agriculture for the first time, to get a fair start."

Improved support services and related programs which will enable elderly citizens to continue to live independently in the community."

Unspecified programs "designed to stimulate housing construction to meet the needs of homeowners and tenants and to provide employment in the construction industry."

The Public Service Superannuation Act to be amended to "eliminate the unfair practice of discontinuing a survivor's pension upon remarriage."

Building and fire code regulations to be reformed and streamlined, as well as the Mining Act.

Legislation to ensure that Ontario law is "fully consistent" with the new Canadian Charter of Rights and Human Rights Code.

Next month's budget to be the keystone of a recovery program which will stress jobs, fiscal management and "other measures". However, the Government has laid the main responsibility for economic recovery on the business community.

Ottawa is to be pressured to restrict the number of imported cars.

Some good in budget

by Bill Scott, M.P.

On April 19, the Hon Marc Lalonde, Minister of Finance, tabled a budget in the House of Commons. In doing so, he stated "I set out with two goals: to ensure that recovery firmly takes hold and that it be durable. To create the jobs Canadians need, I proposed actions that will go into effect immediately, but, that will also be geared to the medium term. I am relying primarily on the dynamism and creativity of the private sector to bring about durable recovery."

These words are quite encouraging. For some time I have been saying that this government must create a proper climate for recovery intervention. The proposed Special Recovery Program appears to be a step in the right direction. I say, "appears" because until the enabling legislation is presented to the House of Commons, no one can tell if this program will be effective, or just another National Energy Program. What we do know is that it would have cost the taxpayers $4.6 billion before the Minister's indiscretion of allowing a budget leak. Now it will cost an additional $2 billion of $4.8 billion in total.

Two hundred million dollars is an incredible price to save the Minister's job. How is this program to be paid for? It is the government's intent to meet these costs by an increase in the federal sales tax by one percent.

This tax will not be imposed until October 1984. The government either intends the program not to go into effect until then or they intend to carry this debt until then, further increasing our deficit and tax burden. By the time this tax is to come into effect, there probably will be at least one more budget, and most probably, a change of government.

Several measures were proposed in the fields of housing. None of these is new, but, instead extend

The following is an open letter sent to Anson, Hindon and Minden township clerk Elinor Burke.

Dear Mrs. Burke,

I was appalled when I read the article that appeared in last week's edition of this paper regarding the lack of response to a letter you claim was sent out to a number of clubs in this township regarding Canada Day 1983 celebrations.

The Haliburton and District Lions Club, which is in its sixth year of operation and draws members from both Minden and Haliburton, has been involved in many community projects over the years.

Last Christmas we gave out 15 turkeys in Minden to needy families, with the assistance of Dick Schell and have carried out many other projects in Minden beneficial to your town. It is not that our club is not interested and did not reply, but rather that we were not contacted in the first place.

A simple call to the Chamber of Commerce, Haliburton Information Centre or even Manpower Outreach, would have put you in touch with our club as all of these offices have our executives, names, addresses and telephone numbers.

As of April 25, we have neither received a letter nor a phone call as was indicated you were instructed to do before the next council meeting. In future, it would be appreciated if you were to get an up to date list of service clubs and their executive before accusing them of not being interested in supporting community projects.

George Gudgeon,
President,
Haliburton & District
Lions Club.

Due to the scheduling of National Team Trials in British Columbia, the Gull River Canoe and Kayak Slalom, originally scheduled for May 15 has been moved ahead to Sunday May 8.

This event will get underway at 10 a.m. and run until 4:30 p.m. at the Minden Wild Water Preserve, located between Horseshoe Lake and Minden Lake.

The Gull River Training Centre, a building to house activities at the Preserve, is expected to be started later in May and ready for an official opening on Saturday, September 24 at 10 a.m., after which the Provincial Slalom Championships will be contested. A continuous program of trail improvement will facilitate public access for watching white water activities on the river.

For the shear fun of it

"I figured there would never be another chance like this, so I yanked the kids out of school to watch," said one of the spectators gathered at the Losos farm where Esther and Herb Lee had asked a shepherd to shear their sheep.

The shepherd was Richard Everett from Woodville. He went west and learned his trade as an apprentice shepherd. "He raises sheep for himself. He has three hundred sheep," said Esther Lee. "You could say he's full time," she said.

Everett starts at the belly of the soon to be shorn sheep after turning the animal over on its back. He cuts through the matted hair there and continues around the, in this case, docile subject.

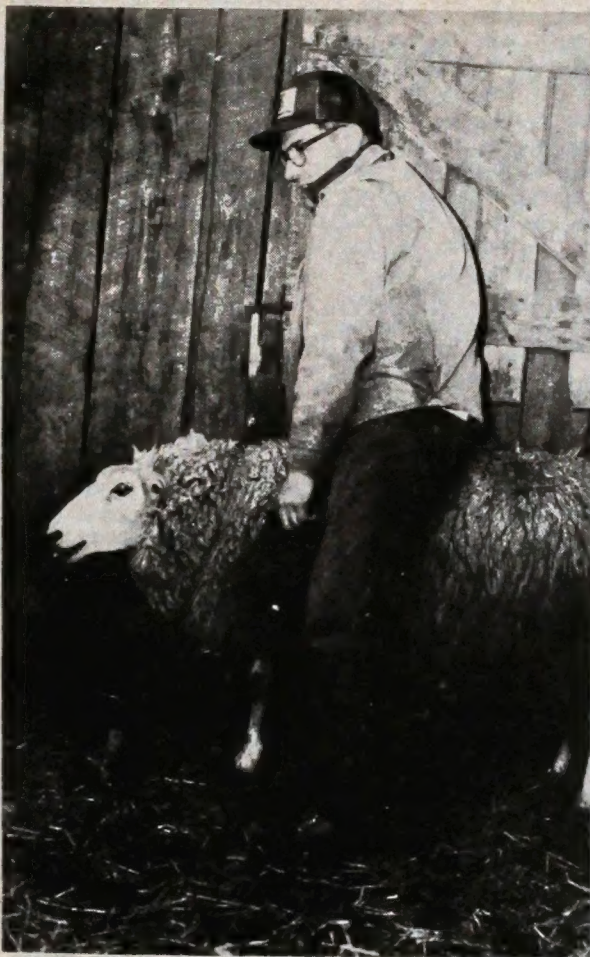

One of the reasons the Lees engaged the professional shepherd's services this year, is that he can shear the sheep closer in one clip rather than having to go over the animal twice. This means the wool fibres are about "five inches long" and makes them stronger for spinning.

"My husband usually does them himself," said Lee.

The hair is shorn from the sheep in one big piece which can weigh "anywhere from ten to fourteen pounds." After the wool is shaven off, it has to be washed, picked, carded and then spun before it can be used. Then you can knit, crochet, weave or whatever with it."

Everett shaved the 19 sheep the Lees have in about two hours. It was "quick, but he's quicker than that," said Lee. She said in competitions Everett had shorn sheep "in about two minutes."

Next year, the 18 lambs the Lees have now will be sheared as well, although it just doesn't seem possible at their present size.

Clockwise, from the top, Herb Lee holds the next sheep to be shorn by bracing it against the wall, Richard Everett prepares his shears while the sheep docilely waits, Everett about the halfway mark, the shepherd almost finished and centre, the sheep has survived yet another shearing.

The commemorative coin depicting Thomas Chandler Haliburton, for whom our county was named, is now being minted. The Speech from the Throne also outlined previously announced plans to amend the Education Act to ensure that all French-speaking students can get an education in French and a White Paper on Ontario Trust companies.

Grants for French as a minority language and French as a second language programs will increase by about nine per cent. New this year will be a start-up grant to assist boards to establish or expand immersion or extended French as a second language programs in English language secondary schools. Funding of the Heritage Languages program will also be increased. Recognition for grant purposes for grade 9 and 10 pupils in Roman Catholic Separate Schools will be increased.

The Treasurer has announced that his new budget will be presented to the House on Tuesday afternoon, May 10. No doubt this will appear to be a tough budget. The following budget will probably be timed to the next election, with lots of give-aways. However, for the present, we will focus on May 10.

is remembered as Canada's first internationally known author of note in particular for his works called "The Clockmaker" or "The Sayings and Doings of Samuel Slick, of Slickville." Everyday sayings such as "raining cats and dogs," "barking up the wrong tree," "quick as a wink," and "facts are stranger than fiction" are but a few of the many that are attributed to his humorous books.

"Clifton" Thomas Haliburton's elegant home in Windsor, Nova Scotia is now a museum operated by the province and they have ordered two of the new coins struck in Fine Silver. A bus trip organized by our local rug hooking group is leaving Haliburton June 1 for a one week trip to the east coast and they are including a visit to Clifton on their itinerary. We have asked them to take the two coins with them and make a personal presentation to the curator.

Incidentally, there are a few seats left on this trip and more information may be obtained by calling Marg Fedorchuk at 457-2370.

White Water date changed

Thousands of our plastic bags that are circulating show the date of the Gull River Canoe & Kayak Slalom as May 15. Roger Parsons has written to us to advise that due to scheduling of national team trials this date had to be changed to Sunday May 8 from 10:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

at the Minden White Water Park.

They also tell us that construction of the "Gull River Training Centre" building will get underway this spring with an official opening scheduled for September 24 which is the weekend of the Provincial championships at the park.

Some concern has been expressed by cottagers on Horseshoe Lake that water levels on Horseshoe Lake were being affected by the opening of the dam to accommodate the running of these events at the park. Bruce Kitchen of the Trent Severn Authority has explained that this certainly is not the case and that the worst that occurs is a variation of 2" to 3" in the normal level which is corrected within 24 hours.

Fishermen wondered at one time also what the alterations to the river bed would do to the traditional fishing expectations. They are elated with the results because due to the many eddies that were created the rainbow trout are thriving like never before.

Like many developments that worry and concern some natives and cottagers the Minden White Water park has proven to be a great asset and a most welcome and responsible member of our community.

Lutterworth council considers liability

The question of liability was discussed at the April 20 meeting of Lutterworth council. The discussion centred on a grass fire which occurred March 17 on Highway 121. A storage shed was destroyed, a house suffered minor damage and several acres of grass burnt during the fire.

Fraser Rogers, the township's solicitor verbally informed clerk Wayne Hughes he could see "no way the township could be liable." Rogers said the township "could be named in an action but he as solicitor, would have the name removed" said Hughes. It is "not conceivable we could be liable for any damages" concluded the clerk.

Councillor Allan Stott asked whether the individual responsible for starting the fire could be petitioned for the cost of the fire.

Hughes said the township has been paid for costs but that Rogers would have to research the options in the event of refusal to pay.

The fire protection agreement Lutterworth has with Anson, Hindon and Minden was a definite asset said Hughes. "This is one time we have benefitted financially from the agreement" he informed council.

The clerk also offered, for council's consideration, a list of private individuals and the hours they spent helping to extinguish the blaze. The list was sent to the township by the Ministry of Natural Resources (MNR.) The Ministry wrote that if the township wished to pay wages for fighting the fire, MNR "has a provision" to pay 50% of the cost. MNR said they would pay $2.50 of the $5.00 hourly wage. However, Hughes told council paying the extra firefighters is "absolutely discretionary."

Councillor Bill Valentine suggested leaving the matter for the May 3 council meeting rather than make a decision due to the strong position held by the absent members, particularly councillor Bill Prentice.

Deputy Reeve Glynne Lewis, who chaired the meeting, closed the matter saying the firefighters "certainly worked very hard. It could have been a lot worse."

Mini-fair rental explained

Approximately 20 individuals representing over 24 crafts-people attended the informational meeting for the Minden Mini-fair program Thursday evening. Anson, Hindon and Minden Councillor Gary Kenney, the organizer of the concept, chaired the gathering.

The meeting was told that spaces in the booths would be available throughout the summer months beginning June 10. The booths, a covered shelter with open sides which has been divided into six separate selling areas, will be located adjacent to the municipal offices. They will rent for $20 for a four day weekday period (Monday to Thursday) and $50 for a three day weekend period (Friday to Sunday). The space will be available to the vendors for those fees only and sellers will be required to pay the full fee even if they were only interested in renting the space for one day.

The booths, according to the information provided at the meeting, "...will allow an opportunity for local crafts-people to display their wares, produce and skills on a regular or intermittent basis." The pamphlet suggests that because of the changing nature of the vendors at the site, "...it should be an exciting place for residents and visitors to shop...its character will change daily and weekly as new products and artisans take advantage of the booths provided."

It was pointed out that the rental fee includes the municipal licensing and tax fee.

It was explained that because of the portable nature of the booths, they would be moved out onto Minden's Main Street for at least one weekend this summer. Kenney said the idea of a street fair would be tried in early June. If it was deemed successful, others would be scheduled throughout the summer. "Our purpose is to help build an attraction that will draw more people to this community," he said. Promotion for the street fair and mini-fairs will be directed at communities within an hour and a half driving distance of Minden.

Rental of the booths during the street fairs will be slightly higher at $70 for the weekend. During the street fair the community's main street between the bank and Vasey's Insurance office will be blocked off to vehicular traffic.

Interest in the mini-fair and street fair concepts appeared to be moderate with less than half of those in attendance indicating they were seriously interested in making application for booth space. Applications, which will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis were handed out at the meeting.

Kenney noted that a committee would be formed to approve the applications and monitor the activities at the fairs. He said the group would only allow home made or home grown produce to be sold at the fairs. Pamphlets outlining the details of the mini-fair and street fair are available from the Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal office.

be remembered is that the Minden Wild Water Preserve is not a Provincial Park, but an operation sponsored by paddlers affiliated with the Ontario Wild Water Affiliation. The land generally is private but made available for the public to enjoy during the daylight hours. People parking cars should try to use the public parking at Horseshoe Lake Road. If parking on the road, all four wheels should be off the pavement.

The Gull River Slalom has been advertised on local plastic shopping bags as May 15. It would be appreciated if as many people could be informed of the change as possible.

Quality education is alive and well and living in Haliburton County. The theme of Education Week 1983 is "Education for Tomorrow." This is both a statement and a challenge: a statement of our recognition that new realities demand new approaches to the delivery of educational programmes and a challenge to confront the future, through education, with confidence and foresight.

The teachers in Haliburton County have accepted the challenge. Many of our members have taken and are taking courses to keep themselves abreast of the changing and challenging demands they are currently meeting.

Teachers' and schools' involvements in the communities are at an all-time high level in our County.

We are proud of our schools, our programmes, our students and our communities.

A burnt and mangled receiver dangles from a phone on Minden's Main Street. The vandal apparently set a fire within the booth which melted the phone and plastic fixtures. The action appeared to lack any clear motive as police noted no effort was made to rifle the coin box. The incident is believed to have happened Friday evening.

Bones believed to be those of pioneer child

Ontario Provincial Police have received additional information concerning the skeletal remains found in the Dorset area April 7.

After tests were performed on the skeleton at the Centre of Forensic Sciences in Toronto, it was confirmed the bones were human and probably a young female.

Two Huntsville residents have given the remains a tentative identity, that of Pearl Avery, a girl who died of diphtheria at aged ten. Laura Philpott remembers all the Avery children stricken by the illness and her sister dying and being buried behind their house in 1918.

George Russell, 83, claims having attended the funeral when he was about 17.

Booth vandalized

A telephone booth on Minden's Main Street received damages as a result of burning last weekend. Police said it was an act of "deliberate vandalism." No attempt was made to break into the coin box.

P.C. Mike Smith investigated the incident on April 23. He found the culprits had set the plastic portion of the telephone on fire, destroying the light inside, the roof and the telephone itself.

The cost of repair is estimated at $300.00.

Stouffer sees promising future for county's lumber industry.

"I think the future is quite bright," said local lumber mill operator Elgin Stouffer about the lumber industry in Haliburton County.

Stouffer has been in the industry for about 40 years. He started shortly after his family moved to this area working at W.O. Bailey and Son of Haliburton Village after leaving high school. After working for Bailey for 13 years he opened his own mill at Halls Lake in 1956. Since that time the mill has "survived" although this winter he had to lay off his men, two more victims of the current recession.

Employment is a concern for Stouffer both as a member of the industry and as a county councillor. He feels the potential of the lumber industry could do much to alleviate the large number of chronically unemployed in the county.

"Just off the top of my head I'd think as much as $10 million in fuel wood alone goes out of the county," He says "the fuel wood market, created in the early 1970's during the world oil crises, has stabilized itself. Because of the demand for low quality wood as firewood, upgraded timber acreage has increased."

Stouffer believes a better grade of wood could dramatically improve the economy in the county. "I'm worried four-fifths of the trees in the county are badly below grade," the result of the poor management policies of past loggers.

The old companies would harvest the best trees but leave the "culls" Stouffer said. These low grade trees, "often rotting on the inside as fast as they are growing on the outside," block sunlight vital to saplings. Once these "culls" are removed, the improved growth rate of the higher grade saplings is "remarkable."

Upgrading the woodlands in the county and increased employment go hand in hand. Stouffer estimates the industry could support as many as five times more employees if quality was better.

He suggested this quality lumber would probably enable the area to support 20 to 30 more factories like the veneer manufacturing factory in Wilberforce. That plant has a workforce of about 60 people.

To increase the numbers working in the county in lumber related industries, Stouffer has also introduced, at county council, the idea of inviting technologically advanced countries, such as Japan and West Germany, to locate facilities here.

The question concerning the best method to draw trees out of the bush also involves upgrading. While some swear by horses, Stouffer says "the wheeled skidder is generally considered to be one of the best inventions in the lumber industry." He admits a carelessly used machine can wipe out as much as one-quarter of an acre of young stock but contends a properly handled skidder with a responsible operator is a beneficial tool.

Stouffer is also a member of the recently formed Haliburton County Forest Owners Association, a group whose aim is to improve local timber holdings and provide some employment. It is funded jointly by the two senior levels of government.

Still another measure has been taken in the county to preserve young high grade trees. "I was in favour of Dysart trying out the bylaw because they have the largest land holdings. If anyone needs one Dysart does."

Stouffer said he would support a county wide bylaw "by the end of the year perhaps." He first wants to gauge the results of the Dysart bylaw. Stouffer said the bylaw is "patterned after one in Renfrew." He believes some of the bylaw may have to be changed because "the forest land is somewhat different in Renfrew than here."

With all the measures taken in the county by the several levels of government, and the efforts of conscientious companies and individuals, Elgin Stouffer's prediction of a "bright future" for the industry and indeed the county as a whole, seems a pleasantly possible result.

Heinekin Yard changed to Friday

The Heinekin Yard, the annual five mile foot race will be held on Friday this year instead of Thursday as in the past. Details of the change were presented to the Anson, Hindon and Minden council by Rockcliffe Tavern owner Dave Willis, April 14.

He said the change was being made to enable more runners to take part in the event. Willis explained that more people were likely to attend the event if it were held at the start of the weekend rather than on a weekday. He said the sponsors are expecting some 400 runners to take part this year. Last year close to 300 participants covered the course from Camp Onandaga to the finish line in front of the Rockcliffe Tavern.

Willis said the sponsorship is being expanded. Brooks International, a company which makes running shoes, will be sharing the sponsorship with Heineken. According to Willis, the sponsors will be promoting the event with colourful posters and advertisements in running magazines.

Another change this year will be the introductions of a $5 entry fee. Proceeds from the event will be donated to the Canadian Olympic Bobsled Team. The members of the team have participated in the last two "Yards", pushing their wheeled training bobsled the last mile of the course. They are expected to be on hand again for the 1983 run.

The meeting was told that the organizer had confirmed with the OPP concerning the changes.

The council agreed to the closing of half of Main Street for a one hour period on the day of the race to provide a track for the runners. The finish line will be located in front of the Home Hardware store.

including the persistence in the soil of 2,4,5-T which she said contained 2,4,7,8-TCDD and which was sprayed until banned in 1980 and the monitoring the pesticides advisory committee does on another Hydro herbicide Tordon picloran.

Holliday-Rhodes said Ruth Chalk, who accompanied Holliday-Rhodes to the meeting, "experienced brown-out on vegetation near her home a year after Hydro sprayed" her property. The Anti-Pollution Committee president also "officially" asked Hydro to mount an impact study on the effect of 2,4,5-T on the environment here.

"In my eyes, they (Hydro) lost a lot of credibility before they stopped using 2,4,5-T which contained TCDD" she said Monday. Holliday-Rhodes said she had correspondence from Hydro before the herbicide was banned in which they assured her the chemical was safe.

"I think they have to tell us what legacy they left, and quickly, before it (the 2,4,5-T) breaks down" she continued. "They owe it to let us know if there is TCDD still around."

Holliday-Rhodes also mentioned Tordon picloran which she said Hydro uses in June, July and August and which has a "very persistent" presence in the soil.

Hydro requested a meeting with her set for May 11 at the Hydro offices in Minden.

The county meeting closed the Hydro presentation with few further questions from councillors on the effects of the herbicide.

Council briefs

Items from the April 20 meeting of Haliburton County Council.

The County of Simcoe has sent Haliburton County a copy of its resolution expressing concern over a statement by Dr. Bette Stephenson, Ontario's Minister of Education.

Stephenson said Ontario has a goal of equal opportunity education for all children, "regardless of whether their mother tongue is French or English" according to the resolution. The accompanying letter said Simcoe County council "is concerned about the implications of the program as far as number of children, bussing, number of teachers, facilities, and the cost, not only to the Province of Ontario, but to the County taxpayer."

The letter requests the resolution be presented to council and if endorsed, informing Stephenson.

When the resolution was introduced to council, Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey said Simcoe county's "taken some initiative." While he agreed "with some positions," Fearrey suggested council wait and "see what is happening with the board of education." He said that "if we're united (the board and council)" it will be "easier" than finding out later both executives are of the same opinion.

Fearrey also said the board "should be held more accountable" than under the present system.

Board of Education chairperson, Nancy Stinson, said she had no comment on the matter when contacted Tuesday as the board had not yet met and discussed Stephenson's statement.

Education levy

In another matter of education, Middlesex County, by London, asked council to consider a resolution to "have educational levies on municipalities set at a level which will not exceed 50% of the taxes levied by each municipality."

Haliburton county council voted in favour of the resolution with the exception of Robert McCausland, Reeve of Glamorgan.

Task Force

MPP John Eakins has asked to hear from "any persons who may have suggestions to make on the future place of the rural municipalities in Ontario's social and political fabric," for the task force on rural municipalities he chairs.

In a letter to the county, read at last council meeting, he said he and other members of the Liberal caucus at Queen's Park "are now in the process of consulting with the municipalities to fine tune the scope" of the task force on rural municipalities in Ontario.

1983-84 School year outlined

The 1983-84 school year for both the elementary and secondary levels has been announced by the Haliburton County Board of Education.

The board points out in its press release, that it is impossible to co-ordinate the two divisions exactly because of the examination schedule at the high school. For that reason the two systems may have different dates for professional development days etc.

The three terms for the coming school year are as follows: fall term—September 6 to December 16; winter term January 3 to March 9; spring term—March 19 to June 20 for secondary school students and June 22 for elementary school students.

The following is the schedule for the coming school year for both divisions. Students do not attend school on days named as holidays, or professional development day.

September 6: school commences for both divisions.

September 19: professional development day for both divisions.

October 10: Thanksgiving holiday.

November 7: professional development day for both divisions.

December 2: professional development day for the elementary division, instructional day for secondary school division.

December 19 to January 2 (inclusive): Christmas break.

January 13 to 20: instructional days for elementary division, examinations for secondary school division.

February 17: professional development day for elementary division, instructional day for secondary school division.

March 12-16 (inclusive): March break.

April 20: Good Friday holiday.

April 23: Easter Monday holiday.

May 21: Victoria Day holiday.

June 13: instructional day for the elementary division, examinations begin at secondary school.

June 20 (noon): last day of school at secondary school.

June 22 (noon): last day of school at elementary level.

Festival of Fun Thursday

On Thursday, April 28 at 7:15 p.m., the Haliburton Chapter of the Ontario Association for Children with Learning Disabilities (A.C.L.D.) will be putting on the seventh annual Festival of Fun at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School.

Each year the Festival features local talents of all ages in the performing arts. This year's Festival promises to be a very exciting one. Talented county residents are volunteering their time and abilities to present an evening of instrumental music, singing, dancing, acting, and general fun activities. It is guaranteed to be a Festival of excellent entertainment.

Since the performers are providing their talents without a fee, there will be no admission charge. However, free-will donations will be collected for the purpose of helping the A.C.L.D. to continue its summer camp, swimming activity, and other programmes for the learning disabled children of our county. Refreshments will be sold during the intermission.

At previous festivals there has been standing room only for those who arrive late. Plan this year to come early to the Festival of Fun; and support your local A.C.L.D. chapter.

Soil program unveiled

Details of the new soil conservation and environmental protection assistance program were received in the agricultural offices last week. This program was announced recently by the Hon. Dennis Timbrell, Ontario's Minister of Agriculture and Food. This program replaces the former Farm Productivity Incentive Grant Program which was terminated on March 31.

The new program consists of 2 parts - erosion control and manure storage. Each section has different rules.

Under erosion control the grant is 50% of the eligible cost up to $7,500 per farm operation.

Erosion control projects are divided into 2 categories. The projects in category 1 must be designed by and the construction must be supervised by an engineer. Included in this category are:

- chute spillways
 - drop inlet spillways
 - gully control
 - gabion basket structures
 - rip-rap linings
 - grassed waterways
 - construction of terraces, contours and diversions
 - low-level ditch and stream crossings
 - grade control structures
- Category 2 projects under erosion control include:
- windbreaks

- catch basins
- tile outlet protection
- fencing ditches and streams
- alternate livestock watering devices near water courses, to avoid erosion and pollution
- seeding and sodding ditchbanks
- ditch buffer strips

In this category, it is recommended that farmers obtain professional assistance but it is not mandatory.

The grants for manure storages are for 1/3 of the eligible costs up to $5,000 per farm operation.

Eligible items include:

- liquid and semi-solid manure storage tanks.
- concrete pads for dry or solid manure storage which includes some method of controlling liquid run-off.
- storage covers
- transfer piping

All manure storages must have at least 200 days storage capacity. Open storages must have a safety fence.

Manure handling equipment is not eligible.

Included in the eligible costs in both sections are the engineering fees for design, and for supervision of construction.

Cluster flies & larder beetles

This past winter, almost every house and building has been invaded by cluster flies. Now, many of these buildings have large populations of larder beetles appearing.

Both of these insects are a nuisance, but do not damage.

Cluster flies vary in size but most will be slightly larger than houseflies and are dark grey. They come into buildings in the fall and leave by April. In the home, they buzz up and down at the windows. Many fall on their backs on the windowsill or floor, spin around and, in time, die.

Collect dead flies from the windows, etc. in the home with a vacuum cleaner. Aerosol sprays and Dichlorvos strips are effective in killing flies inside.

The adult larder beetle is 1/3 inch long, black in color with a broad lighter brown band running across the middle of the insect. The larva is a hairy grub which resembles a carpet beetle larva but is larger.

The larder beetle larvae feed on animal products such as feathers, skins, meat products, dog food, and dead insects, especially cluster flies. The beetles are scavengers. There have been no reports of injury to clothing. They are simply a nuisance.

The principal control of larder beetles is to reduce the number of cluster flies, and to gather dead flies in the attic, cold air registers, and any place else where they are found. A 2% chlordane spray should help control them in areas where it is impossible to collect the flies.

For some reason, there was a bumper crop of cluster flies last summer and we have a lot of larder beetles as a result now.

Remember, that they are only a nuisance—there is no threat to our health and welfare from them.

Centre prepares to open

After an extensive search by the Haliburton Highlands Hospitality Training Committee, staff for the new centre has been engaged, ensuring the May 2 starting date. The committee hired the permanent administrator and life skills teacher, and two hospitality instructors who will join the previously hired secretary.

The committee accepted Rebecca Parkes of St. Thomas for the position of managing director. Her life skills teaching experience ranges from George Brown College and the Queen Street Mental Health Centre, both located in Toronto to being the training and development coordinator for McDonald Tobacco's Canadian operation for the past two years.

Skills instructors Pat Burnes and Bill Hicks have also been hired by the committee with Parkes' aid. They will be involved with the centre's "train-the-trainer" course directed at the operators of resorts and restaurants to improve business skills.

Burnes is graduating from Sir Sandford Fleming's hospitality course while Hicks is a Ryerson graduate. The various skills to be taught in the course, including bartending, waitering, kitchen help and housekeeping will be divided between the two. They will also arrange on the job instruction with local businesses.

Karen Pockett is responsible for the office work. She was hired about four weeks ago.

Looking back

Our second installment in this series presents a report prepared by Richard Hughes, Crown Land Agent for Settlement along the Bobcaygeon Road. His report, was addressed to the commission of Crown Lands, Philip M. Vankoughnet.

Philip Michael Matthew Scott Vankoughnet (1823-1869) served as the Ontario Minister of Agriculture from 1856 to 1858 and Commissioner of Crown Lands from 1858 to 1862.

The Bobcaygeon Road, stretching north from the community which bears its name is one of a number of colonization roads surveyed by the province to encourage settlement in the then undeveloped portion of the province. It was planned to have Bobcaygeon Road extend eventually to Lake Nipissing. In fact, the road reached just north of the present location of Dorset before it was abandoned.

Hughes, in his first report, dated March 1859, found conditions poor along the Bobcaygeon Road. In a second report of that year, dated December 31, Hughes offered a summary of settler activity along the road.

"I beg to enclose my returns for the month of February 1859, the amount received is very small and I find that a great majority of the settlers are very poor, in fact, if the work does not go on during the summer on the road I think some will have to leave - I trust that the government will adopt some measure for the relief of poor settlers in these new settlements as many of them have spent all in getting here.

It would be a great pity that so large a quantity of land as is now cleared and capable of giving an abundant crop without any fear of vermin destroying it, should remain untilled for want of seed to put in it.

If seed were provided for such as cannot get it themselves, it would give a great impetus to the settlement and save many from want."...

December 31 report

Herewith I have the honour to submit statements of the number of settlers on the Free Grants on the Bobcaygeon Road to the 31st December, 1859; shewing the number of lots located, number of actual settlers, number of persons in each family, acres under crop, acres cleared, houses, barns and stables built - viz:

Number of lots located	195
Number of actual settlers	168
Total number of persons in families	697
Houses built	126
Barns and stables	32

ACTUAL SETTLERS

English	31
Irish	96
Scotch	14
Canadians	22
Swedes	3
Germans	2
	168

Number of acres cleared	776
Number of acres under crop	371

As follows—

90 acres wheat, 1620 bushels	$1.00	$1620
138 acres potatoes, 20700 bushels	.50	10350
87 acres Turnips, 15400 bushels	.20	3080
25 acres Corn, 500 bushels	1.00 p. 100	500
150 tons Beaver Meadow Hay	8.00	1200
8000 lbs Maple Sugar	.10	800
400 gals. Molasses	.60	240
50,000 feet Lumber sawn	6.00	300
10,000 shingles	1.50	150
10 tons Timothy Hay	20.00	200
200 Deer	3.50	700
Furs		1500
6 brls. Potash	25.00	150
		$20,790

The balance of the 371 acres under crop were planted with vegetables which, although of great value to settlers, may not be worthy of being included in a report.

The quantity of crop raised on the lands sold in the Townships opened up by the Bobcaygeon Road will, for this year, be somewhat inferior to that on the Free Grants, but I feel sanguine that next year they will be larger, as you will see by the following memorandum of sales in Galway, Sommerville and Minden, which latter Township was opened for sale on the 1st September last, and at the same time it will be taken into consideration that /somerville was nearly all sold before this agency was established, and that Galway has not been half surveyed.

Lands sold in Galway in 1859	2700 acres
Lands sold in Sommerville	7000 acres
Lands sold in Minden in 4 months	4200
Total	13900

Club plans renovations

The plans of the Minden Lawn Bowling Club to make renovations to the washrooms at the old curling club have been approved by the municipal council. Details for the alterations were made public at the April 14 meeting of the council.

The council was told the club, using a portion of a New Horizon senior citizen's grant, wanted to refurbish the washroom and connect them to the municipal sewer system. The club has estimated the work to cost $2,050.

While the council had no objection to the proposed renovations, it was suggested by several councillors that the municipality should let the bowlers and members of the Minden Agricultural Society know that the township owns the former curling club building.

"I think there is a misunderstanding about who owns the building," Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas commented. "The township does own the building," Reeve Lyle McKnight pointed out.

McKnight said, while the municipality owned the structure it had turned the care for it over to the Agricultural Society, who in turn leased it to the bowling club.

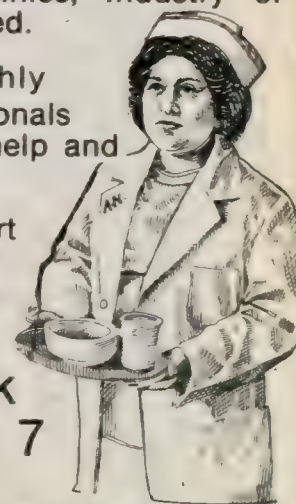

Pergolas said he didn't feel it right that the Agricultural Society should be collecting rent on a building which the township owns. He suggested that if the Lawn Bowling Club was able to use the building at no cost, it would give the club an incentive to improve the structure.

Councillor Gary Kenney suggested the council meet with representatives of the club and the society to clarify the details surrounding the use and ownership of the building.

senior league

by Bert Harrison

We were saddened by the passing of Mary Oliver's brother in law, Mr. Leigh Sisson of Carnarvon, our sympathy to his wife and relatives.

We had an interesting service in the chapel Sunday night, Rev. Burgess led the singing, Ruth Thompson came to play, Harold read the scripture lesson and Robert McBrien prayed. Thinker John introduced our special guests, Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith. Although Mr. Smith is blind, with both we were much impressed. Now they are going to a foreign land (where so many are going blind) to give a helping hand. Thank you for coming Sunday night as our special guests. In this new venture, you will be truly blest.

We watched two movies Monday night, "Here is Canada" and "The Englishman's Boy." We wish more would come to see them of course.

Mrs. Roberta Walker drops in once in a while, always greets you with a friendly smile. We men like to see her come when she has a chance, to fix so neatly our shirts and pants. What she does for the ladies we can only guess, but I'm sure Roberta could tell you the rest.

The ladies in the craft room work too hard by far, making different items for the summer bazaar. Our head cook, Mark Schell is on holidays, we hope he catches some nice trout whole he is away.

Mrs. Curry had a pleasant surprise when her grandson and wife paid her a visit again.

Rev. Westhaver, who lives just across the way, had a special message for us today, our girls help so much when they come to sing and play.

Tuesday afternoon is bingo time at Hyland Crest, we haven't heard yet who fared the best. Roy Anderson had a birthday last week and Jack Stewart had one on Thursday, congratulations to you both we would like to say. Wednesday night is also games night, I didn't go, the players might think I had B.O.

Down at Fun and Fitness, Millie Wood bless her heart, won all others in throwing of the darts, on Thursday morning, down in the gym, Carrie Jones won at knocking down the pins.

In the afternoon we had a busy time here at Hyland Crest. We had the ladies from Lochlin United Church for which we were truly blest. They put on a nice tea party, they sure have the touch. Then they played and sang so nicely, we enjoyed them very much. Just then, who next advances is teacher Bernie Davis with her grade four pupils to put on for us square dances. The way they stepped it off for us was simply grand, dip and dive across the hall and take her by the hand. I know the teacher is proud of them, it is only right she should, they are now planning to dance in Hollywood.

We hear a good report on Mrs. Smith who lives in Lutterworth Pines, she has undergone a serious operation and came through it fine.

Our Sing Song took on a different twist this April day. Grace Coburn came to sing, Fred Ballard came to play. After leading us in a few familiar songs, we had a special guest, Heather Bowron came along. Heather is joining a group called "The Friendly Service". She and Grace sang two lovely numbers and didn't seem a bit nervous. The Friendly Service is based in Colorado Springs, the object of the group is helping others and hope to see the time when all men are brothers.

Two year old statistics don't interest council

Statistics on unemployment figures in the county are available, Anson, Hindon and Minden township council learned April 14. However, the figures are two years old and could cost upward to $250 to obtain.

The council had been seeking the unemployment statistics for its municipality in particular, to help support its applications for assistance through senior governments make-work programs. Inquiries to the Unemployment Insurance Commission proved useless. The council was told the numbers were not available or statistics for one municipality could not be separated from the large region.

Council enlisted the supported of County Council which passed a similar resolution requesting details on all the Haliburton municipalities. This request drew a reply similar to the one received by the Minden council.

The council was told that while the U.I.C. figures are not available, details compiled for the 1981 census by Statistics Canada could be obtained. At its latest meeting the council heard that it could cost up to $250 for the federal agency to provide the municipality with the information.

Reeve Lyle McKnight seemed to sum up the council's feelings on the offer when he commented, "1981 information isn't going to be of much use to us now."

Mr. Art Cooper of Gooderham visited with Mr. & Mrs. Elmer Harrison of Maple Lake last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Redgers returned from a very pleasant holiday on Tuesday.

I am sorry to report the deaths of Mr. Robert Crick of Minden and Mr. Thomas Hodgson of Haliburton, last week. Our deepest sympathy to the members of their families.

The winners of the mini-card party at St. Paul's last week are as follows: Cribbage - May Eldridge, Euchre - Lone Hands Trudy Coulter, High - Marg McAfee (on a cut.)

The County branch libraries were busy with tape and book exchanges these two weeks. The Eastern branches, last Wednesday and the Western branches this week. Different tapes and books will be available at the Minden Public Library this Thursday afternoon. Hours at the Library are every afternoon except Sunday, from 3 to 5 p.m., also Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Please do visit the current exhibit at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery presented by the weavers of the Haliburton Guild of Fine Arts. This show is well worth seeing. The ladies involved have really outdone themselves in their artistic achievements.

Last week I visited my father who is still confined to Civic Hospital in Peterborough. Hopefully it won't be long until he'll be home once more. As I drove home, I decided to stop off in Fenelon Falls for dinner. I came across a most delightful Chinese and Canadian restaurant called Leung's Restaurant and Tavern. They serve the most delectable Chinese food that I have tasted since I returned to Canada. The hostess is charming and eager to please. If you enjoy good Cantonese cooking, as I do, please keep this restaurant in mind.

At this time I would like to extend my deep appreciation and thanks to friends who have been most kind during Dad's illness. The cards and well-wishes have been most gratifying both to him and to me.

St. Paul's Thrift Shop is currently closed due to renovations, however it will be open again in early May, with some great new buys, I am sure.

On Thursday May 12, Ascension Day, a joint service for St. Paul's Parish and the Parish of Fenelon Falls and Coboconk will be held at St. Paul's Church in Minden at 7:30 p.m.

On Sunday, May 15, a Deanery service of celebration will be held at St. James Church, in Fenelon Falls at 7:30 p.m. Everyone is invited to this evening of music featuring Ruth Fazal, Gospel singer, the Magnificent Sanctuary Band, St. George's Gospel choir and Geoff Rison, Baritone soloist.

A great recording for your listening pleasure, Mozart's Piano Concertos No 17 in G. Major, and No. 21 in C. Major performed by Geza Anda, soloist and conductor recorded by Deutsche Grammophon Gesellschaft. These are beautiful works and contain the theme from the motion picture Elvira Madigan.

I was saddened last week to hear of the death of Walter Slezak, a most gifted actor and singer. He appeared in many movies and won a Tony for his part in Fanny on Broadway. He also appeared on television and at the Metropolitan Opera. I am sure he will be sorely missed.

Well, Dynasty is off the

I ask you

What is grief?
The loss of ecstasy
The longing of something
That you feel can never be.
Of dreams that have been shattered
An now lie cold and dead
The thoughts you left unspoken
The words you should have said.
A guilt in you arises
Behind your tear-dimmed eyes
Will you ever
Look again to cloudless skies?
But above, God has a pattern
For though you cannot see
He will guide your timid, faltering steps
On a path that was meant to be.
He will take you through the forest
To where the sun is bright
To where you may begin again
Triumphant in His light.

I am sorry to report the Earl McDonald and Harry Cowan of Lutterworth Pines are at present confined to Civic Hospital in Peterborough. Mary Eaton of Lutterworth Estates is in Ross Memorial Hospital and Mrs. Al Smith has just returned from a bout in the hospital. We wish all these good people a very speedy recovery.

Friendship is a vase, when it is flawed by heat or violence or accident, may as well be broken at once; it can never be trusted after. The more graceful and ornamental it was, the more clearly do we discern the hopelessness of restoring it to its former state. Coarse stones, if they are fractured, may be cemented again, precious ones, never.

memory of our daughter,
Donna-Lynn who passed

From our happy home and sorrow,

To a noble rest above.

her,
None but aching hearts can tell,
Lost on earth, but found in Jesus doeth all things well.
